Outreach and Hospitality for the 21st Century

Times have certainly changed since I was bought up in the church as a young girl. The arrival of Sunday sports, social media and new cultural views have changed how Americans understand religion and church. The things that used to work are no longer appealing to the general population. Churches must discover new ways to advertise, engage and invite people to church. We will talk about how to attract first time guest to your church and then we will discuss how to receive guest into your church, so they consider returning.

“how to” steps your church can take today to move towards vibrancy and growth. Kim’s ministry passions include children, preaching, and providing spaces for unchurched people to encounter Jesus. Kim is a fully ordained Elder with the West Ohio Conference. She is a graduate of Asbury Theological Seminary where she received her Master and Doctorate degrees and was the recipient of a Beeson Scholarship. She is wife to Eric Seiberling and mother to their adult daughter Lindsey. When not working Kim enjoys entertaining, travel and snuggling with Jackson the pug.
